DETAILED ACTION

1a). The terminal disclaimer filed on 5/20/2005 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

Examiners Amendment

1b). An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee. The application has been amended as follows:

On page 1 of the specification, before "Background of the Invention", insert the following: "This application is a 371 of PCT/US00/02808, filed February 4, 2000, which claims benefit to provisional application US 60/118949, filed February 5, 1999".

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1-22 are allowable over the prior art of record.

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

As per the independent claims, the claim language pertaining to the particular structure and method of recording and comparing transcriptions is not explicitly taught by the prior art of record. Automatic transcription of voice data is known in the art of speech processing, however training the automatic speech converting means to attain higher accuracy with the voice dictation file of a current user and means for controlling the flow of the voice dictation file based upon the status of a current user is not explicitly taught by the prior art of record. Furthermore, it would not have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art of transcription technology to modify the teachings of the prior art of record to obtain the recited limitations as shown above. With respect to the prior art of record, Boys et al (5875448) teaches a data stream editor that has a position finding annunciator; Brais et al (5995936) teaches voice commanded video/audio and linking

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
